Good Morning [INSERT BOSS NAME],

      I know you have a busy morning so allow me to quickly brief you on the scottyab/rootbeer project! We've had some updates in recent years to the project! After taking a look into the repository myself by cloning it and using "git log" I was able to see some nice progress being made by Scott Alexander-Bown and Matthew Rolling. They've been very consistent on the project since its creation in 2017. Below I created a scatter plot to show the work thats been done on the source files of the project, each color is a separate author.

As you can see we have quite a number of people working on the project, we even have had a couple of interns/new hires that have popped in to do some work here and there. Frieder Bluemle had been doing some decent work in 2017, however, it looks like he might have left the project due to not having any commits in recent weeks. Same to aippisch, leocadiotine,vyas, and Fi5t, in fact we should seriously consider taking a look at their contributions as they havent made more than 1 contribution in total, if this is true we should consider asking them to be moved to another project. We should also look into the new features that Matthew Rollings have been placing in RootBeer.java, a he has spent most of his time in that file. If you ever find the time, go ahead and take a look at the file_authors_dates_sorted.csv file ive attached and also take a look at some of their branches using "git log –graph", its great to visuallize the branch tree

As always if you ever feel the want to do some contributions of your own to the repository, dont be afraid to remember to do "git checkout -b <new_branch_name" so you can have your own branch https://github.com/Jordan-Scherf/SeniorDesign-Jordan/tree/mine_repository.
Have great day,
Jordan Scherf - Project Manager
